1 Year Gel Coat and Fiberglass Cosmetic Warranty

By purchasing and accepting delivery of any boat from a selling independent Aquasport Dealer, the Original Retail Purchaser accepts the quality and finish of the “Gel Coat” and “Fiberglass” cosmetic work. Aquasport warrants “Gel Coat” and “Fiberglass” cosmetic work for a period of 12 months and will be limited to a maximum of $600 during that 12-month period, should the boat be repaired by a third party. If the “Gel Coat” and “Fiberglass” cosmetic repair requires more than $600 worth of work, or if the $600 has been expended during the 12 months warranty period, the boat must be brought back to the Aquasport factory in Fort Pierce, Florida at the expense of the selling independent Aquasport Dealer and/or Original or Subsequent Retail Purchaser.

No part of this warranty covers or implies coverage for loss of use.

We warrant the boat hull and bottom construction, except as noted below, against “delamination” or separation CAUSED BY MANUFACTURER’S DEFECT (see definition of “delamination” for more specific information), providing that the integrity of the hull or floor has not been broken (such as with impact damage) or has been worn through.

Definition of Delamination

For the purposes of the definition of delamination as it relates to this limited warranty will be defined as follows: In the case of hull delamination between the deck and the outer hull, where the delamination is due to a manufacturer’s defect in the lamination of the internal stringer system, the outer and inner hull will remain intact while the hull (deck of the boat) becomes soft. At this stage, before any actual destruction of the outer hull laminate, considerable movement of the deck is observed while underway and/or by walking on the delaminated area. This is a warrantable manufacturer’s defect.

If the outer hull is damaged or broken in any way first, by impact damage (caused by striking objects in the water, running the boat aground, improper trailering, etc.) and the outer hull is not properly repaired, continued use of the boat will result in water being forced into the break and the hull will fail or delaminate. This is not a warrantable hull failure, as the problem was caused by operator negligence when the operator damaged the hull and failed to repair the damage and continued to operate the boat. It is the responsibility of the owner/operator to inspect his boat hull for damaged or impacted areas. Continued use of a boat with un-repaired hull damage will result in delamination and separation of the outer hull due to hydrostatic pressure. This form of delamination is not the result of a manufacturer’s defect; therefore, this damage is not covered by the limited warranty.

Note: Any damage to Exterior or Interior Gel coat including un-sealed small part attachment screws will allow water to permeate the underlying laminate. Subsequent use of the Boat with damaged, cracked or missing Gel coat could cause the underlying laminate to fail due to hydrostatic action and/or pressure. Damage caused by failure to repair and maintain the Gel coat surfaces of the boat could cause further damage to the Boat including delamination of the Hull. Continued operation of the Boat with damage to the Gel coat will void this warranty.

INFORMATION REGARDING YOUR AQUASPORT BOAT

PRE-SET TILT LOCKS PROTECT THE ENGINE COWLINGS

The Aquasport factory has pre-set your engine tilt locks in order to protect your engine cowlings. Do not change the pre-set factory tilt lock on your engines. If the tilt lock is changed or adjusted, your engine cowlings will get damaged.

When tilting your engines to clear the water line, be careful of the engine cowling hitting the transom deck. Additionally, depending on the weight and load of your boat (weight, fuel, gear, and persons), the bottom of your engines may not clear the water line.
